This is a fine compilation of generally clean, sometimes risque, humor with a Marine Corps flair. It really helps to understand the mindset of the Marine and the rivalries between them and the other branches of service. It ranges widely from the jokes that make a Marine pump his fist and grunt with mirth to some more sophisticated stuff that might them scratch their heads and grunt with bewilderment. Either way, they will grunt...just don't refer to them as 'grunts'.

Excellent!!! Turning things on their ear to get the job done!!! The fun is knowing what the job is, right!!! Good luck!!! Just kidding!!! I'm also laughing, too!!! You will get most, but, it might help if you have a friend who is or was, a GI, too!!! Definitely worth your while!!!

I purchased this book for my dad, a retired Marine Gunny of 20 years. He is in his late 70's and doesn't read much anymore but I thought it would be good for a laugh. He immediately started reading it and laughing and couldn't put it down! Win Win Win! Well done job to the author and a heartfelt thank you for writing something I could get the man who wants nothing!

Bought this for my father - who served in the Marines in the 1950's - for Christmas and he spent the better part of two days hunched over it, chuckling and even laughing out loud. Highly recommended for the beloved Jarhead in your life. :-)

This is a decent book. Pro: The jokes & stories are really funny, kept me laughing the entire time I was reading it. Con: It's pretty short & I read it all in one sitting ~ also, the price is kind of high, my suggestion is to check your local library to see if they have it for you to look through before spending the money to buy it. I was originally buying this as a gift, but I caved & ended up reading it all, lol. If I had bought it just for me, I'd probably regret buying it (only because I don't re-read books very often), and I think I'll skip giving it as a gift. But I think I'll pass it around to a few people to read and I think it will be enjoyed more that way.

I gave this to my son upon graduating from Marine boot camp. He was laughing as he read, so it must be good!

As a former Marine, I think this was childish, and meant for civilians who need to remain politically correct. The author left much reality unsaid bought this as a birthday gift for a former marine~ he loved it!
